FOREWORD

THIS is the Seventh Edition of "1000 and One Films." Every known producer and distributor of film both theatrical and non-theatrical—whether an individual, a firm, or an organization—has been consulted directly and repeatedly. Our method of gathering data and information from all these sources has been so perfected through the successive editions of "1000 and One" that we confidently offer this Seventh Edition as better than any preceding.

No film was excluded from this edition merely because it had already appeared in a previous edition. But the mass of material increases every year and selection is compulsory. The aim has been to include, within the necessary space limitations, all the new and worthwhile material possible, together with all films from previous editions that are still most actively circulated.

HOW TO USE "1000 AND ONE"

CONSULT first the Classified Subject Index on pages 8, 10, 12, 14, showing the subject-groups under which the films have been arranged. This will refer you direct to the pages and groups carrying the subjects you seek. Information on each film is given as follows:

The title of the film appears in bold type.

The number following shows the number of reels.

Then follow brief review and comment on the film.

Distributors of each film are indicated by number at the extreme right of the last line of description. These numbers refer to the Reference List of Producers and Distributors in the back of the book (pages 129-ff). Numbers with no symbol before them indicate distributors supplying film in 35 mm. size;

• indicates 16 mm. size; • indicates "sound" version.

Note that 16 mm, films are always non-flam. The 35 mm, films may be either flam or non-flam, hence distributor should be asked specifically about this point. (The note under distributors' entry on pages 129-ff will be helpful.)

We cannot attempt to name rental prices on films, for they vary endlessly. The distributor of the particular film should be consulted.

The Educational Screen itself does not handle films. It acts merely as the central clearing house for information on the whole production field of films, both theatrical and non-the-atrical.

"FREE FILMS"

IN THE Reference List of Producers and Distributors we have indicated as far as possible the distributors of "free" films—namely, those to be had for the payment of transportation charges both ways, sometimes with further conditions stipulated.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION SERVICE

THE State Universities and Extension Divisions are a very important source of non-theatrical films. Space limitations absolutely forbid the listing of the immense number of films carried by these Divisions. These excellent services are entirely local, as a rule, and gladly give full information to all film-users within their zone. As much information would be largely useless to the rest of the country it is omitted here.

If you are not familiar with the service of your nearest State University, do not fail to write at once for their complete literature.

16 MILLIMETER FILMS

THE rapid growth in the use of the 16 mm. film on non-inflammable stock—in both educational and entertainment subjects for home, school and church use—has received most careful attention.

All distributors handling 16 mm. films, partially or exclusively, are included in the Reference List of Producers and Distributors in the back of this book. Throughout the body of the book, all films available in 16 mm. are indicated by the symbol.

In addition, on pages 97 to 123, appears a separate list (fully classified by subject, and with group numbers corresponding to those in the regular classification), giving films available only in the 16 mm. size, with their distributors indicated.

Prepare for the new teaching aid

EDUCATIONAL talking moving pictures are a tremendous force already being recognized by prominent educators.

To be prepared for making use of this new educational medium your school should possess the best and standard talking picture equipment. It will enable you to show the educational pictures now in existence and a large program of those in process of production.

Western Electric can equip your school with machines which produce the same fine, tested tone quality now standard in a majority of talking picture theatres.

Write for details—interview—and demonstration. It is worth your while to be informed on this important development of education.

Visual Educators Endorse Filmo Projectors and Library Films

Filmo 57-E Special School Projector, with 250 watt, 5 ampere lump, fixed resistance, 45-50 condenser, geared rewind, large sprockets, and safety shutter. Price, with special school case, $205. Other models from $198 up.

VISUAL educators choose Filmo Projectors. In buying school equipment they are guided by Filmo's perfect functioning, long life, and dependability, which result from precision construction unmatched in the field. Powerful direct illumination, accurate silent movement, and simplicity of operation—these form the foundation of Filmo Projectors popularity in educational use. Another appreciated feature is the ingenious film movement which is reversible and may be stopped for still projection at will and which involves no pressure that would scratch or mar the film.

Educators find among Filmo educational library films such outstanding productions as: Ditmars "Living Natural History"; Pillsbury's "Explorations in Plant and Flower Life"; Tolhurst's "Popular Science"; Finley's "Bird Studies"; U. S. Natural Park Series; American Legion War Film; Field and Stream Nature Films;

UFA Super-Educational Films (Sound and Silent); Golf and Tennis Teaching Films. Also a large selection of feature film comedies, cartoons, travelogues, juveniles, etc.

A Filmo Camera is the key to successful school-made films. Like Filmo Projectors, Filmo Cameras excel in precision and dependability. A complete line of cameras for every purpose, ranging from Filmo 75, the compact pocket model at $120 with case, to the new master of all 16 mm. cameras—the Filmo 70-D with seven film speeds and three lens turret head at $245 and up, with case.

The master of them all— Filmo 70-D Camera

MOTION PICTURES

S. V. E. Educational Motion Pictures have been used for years by schools everywhere—produced by the pioneers in the strictly text film movement, they have formed the nucleus of most of the film libraries in Extension Divisions of State Universities and large city school systems where permanent film libraries are maintained. Other school systems rent the same subjects year after year as a regular part of their program,—a proof of their educational value!

The Cosmic Drama (3) Reading earth's story from erosion and fossils -origin of solar system, appearance of life, effects of glacial action, adaptation, types of mankind. (114, 164)

Time (1) Sun Time and how reckoned; lunar time; long and short (49)days and nights.

Science of Weather Prediction (1) How observer makes prediction sheet; measures amount of rainfall and completes record. Clouds (1) Important types and significance of some of them.

The Power of the Clouds (1) From a snowflake to electric dynamo. ( 49, 36)

Life History of a Stream (1) From a tiny brook we follow the stream the sea.

The Sculpture of the Land by Rivers (1) Erosion of land by running water shown in small scale in laboratory and by views of actual streams. ( • 109)

Rivers as Agents in Shaping the Earth's Surface (1) How erosion by running water has caused land formations. (49) of river

The Work of Rivers (1) "Chalk Talk" illustrating evolution valleys through youth, maturity and old age.

A Study of Niagara (2) Geography and scenery of region; history of the Falls and Gorge. (1) (●131, 164) geologic

(131, 164) The Cycle of Erosion (1) Progressive development of valleys and regions through youth, maturity and old age. ( = 109)The Why of a Volcano (1) Composite cycle of origin and decay through which every volcano must pass.

Earthquakes (1) Study of nature, causes and effects of carthquakes.

types of wave motion accompanying a quake; method of recording and (A = 109) interpreting seismic phenomena.

What Causes Earthquakes (1) Nature, source and action of earthquakes; phenomena of tidal wave; Japanese earthquake, 1923. (320)

Volcanoes (1) How volcanic activity changes surface of earth; explosive and quieter types contrasted; mechanics of lava extrusion. (•109)

Our Volcanic Neighbors (1) Shows how mountain peaks were transformed into Caribbean Islands. (20, 164)

Mt. Vesuvius (1) Crater of world's greatest volcano. (54, 114, 164)

Kilauea's Volcano (1) Picturization of famous lakes of fire and views of seething crater. Prizma color. (27, 164)Kilauea, the House of Everlasting Fire (1/4) Four-mile trip across crater to rim of fire cup; boiling lava and river of fire. (20) Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes (1/4) Photographic record of this little known volcanic region showing results of recent upheaval; famed crater Mt. Katmai.

Formation of Volcanoes and Geysers (1) Diagrams and photography of volcano eruptions and of geysers. (●181) Glaciers (1) Study of existing glaciers; their classifications, modes of origin, motion, characteristics and their work. ( • 109)

Study of a Mountain Glacier (1) Origin and growth of glacier, moraines, crevasses, etc. Diagrams show stages in formation.

(●59, ●131, 49, 164) Shore Lines and Shore Development (1) Shapings of coast by waves, currents, erosion and deposition.  $( \bullet 109)$

Study of Short Features—Low Shore (1) How wave-action changes shore of indentations to smoother lines. "Chalk Talk." (●181) Study of Shore Features—Bold Shore (1) Rocky shore lines are given greater and more magnificent indentations. "Chalk Talk." (●181)

The Story of Coral Growth (1) What coral is, where it grows and kind of land it helps to make. "Chalk Talk." (●131)

The Work of Underground Water (1) Study of geologic work of underground water and its effect on surface-caves, sink holes, bridges.  $( \bullet 109)$

Formation of Caves in Limestone (1) Water seeping through earth's crust wears away the softer parts of rock below the surface.

Digging up the Past (1) Locating and obtaining skeletons of prehistoric animals in Badlands of Red Deer Valley, Canada.

he Educational Screen

The Film Estimates

An invaluable and unique service to the intelligent public that wants to know what a movie is really like before going to the theatre or letting the children go.

In monthly form, the Film Estimates appear in The Educational Screen and in Parents' Magazine—covering all theatrical movies of the month—giving the consensus opinion of a national committee of judges on each picture as to its character, content, and worth for "Intelligent Adult," "Youth," and "Child." The judging committee is wholly independent of the motion-picture industry.

The New Weekly Service

These same Film Estimates are now available in weekly form for parents, ministers, teachers, and social workers in localities where films appear in theatres too early for the monthly list to insure advance information.

A government postal is mailed each week, carrying six Film Estimates on films appearing  $that\ week$  in metropolitan first-run theatres. Hence subscribers can have their Film Estimate in hand before the film is likely to appear at their local theatre.

This postal cuts up (on ruled lines) into six equal miniature cards—which can be filed cumulatively in alphabetic order, yielding automatically a complete card-reference-file of Film Estimates through the year. It no longer matters whether a film arrives early or late at the subscriber's local theatre. There is no need to look through "back numbers" of magazines carrying the Film Estimates in monthly-list-form—no need to be disappointed because "today's film" happens to appear on the next month's list, too late for service. The miniature card is in place in your file whenever you want it, and is instantly found whether the picture be new or old.

Subscription price for this new weekly service has been established at the extraordinarily low figure of $2.00 a year. Send for sample card and full information.

A FILM LESSON ON THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

Teaching Films that have proved their value in thirty countries

EASTMAN Classroom Films embody the results of the latest research in visual education, and are so planned as to give substantial help in the teaching of subjects prescribed in standard courses of study. More than one hundred films have been released, and new subjects are coming out constantly; the rate of release being regulated by a determination to offer only material of unquestioned value to schools. That the films so far produced fill this requirement is proved by the fact that they are being used in thirty countries in addition to the United States . . . Full information, including a complete list of Eastman Classroom Films, will be sent promptly on request.

EASTMAN TEACHING FILMS, INC.

Subsidiary of Eastman Kodak Company ROCHESTER, NEW YORK

SPECIAL SECTION FOR

16-MILLIMETER FILM SUBJECTS

All films in this section are available on the small-size, 16-millimeter stock exclusively. Only non-inflammable (safety) stock is ever used for 16 mm. films.

The same subject-classifications are used in this section as in the body of the book—and the same Group Numbers are retained.

Throughout this section the ▲ indicates films in "sound" version.

Throughout the body of the book, also, a great number of 16 mm. films have been listed. They are always indicated by the •. These subjects, however, are also available in the 35 mm. size.

The Standard 16-Millimeter Projector

for schools, churches, clubs and large homes

Kodascope, Model A

YEARS of use, under all conditions, have proved the worth of this Eastman projector. It is extremely simple—anyone can operate it. It projects pictures that are unexcelled for illumination, brilliance and definition. It is sturdily built, to withstand hard, continuous work. Aside from this, Model A is exceptionally "kind" to films. They are subjected to a minimum of wear and tear, and last indefinitely—a very important consideration. On occasion, the projector can quickly be adapted to the showing of Kodacolor...16-millimeter motion pictures in full color.

Because of these features, Kodascope A is in use in thousands of schools, churches, clubs and homes in all parts of the world. See it demonstrated at any Ciné-Kodak dealer's.

You need Ampro for

Big, bright pictures

From 16m.m. FILM

A pitch-dark room is not always easy . . and BIG pictures that all can see. are necessary. Moreover. there are times when the projector must be used in the auditorium or lecture hall, with an audience of hundreds . . or thousands. Under those conditions, Ampro's capacity to project 9x12 foot pictures of genuine theatre brilliance. clarity and steadiness from 16 millimeter film is a decided advantage.

Full details of The Ampro Precision Projector will be gladly furnished, upon request addressed to

The Ampro Corporation

2839 N. WESTERN AVE., CHICAGO, ILL.

All three models of The Ampro Precision Projector share the same distinguishing features, but each is differently designed in its illuminating system to suit three respective fields of utility. Prices from $165 to $210.

GROUP 63

Historical Fiction

Betsy Ross (5) Historical and patrictic story of the making of the first American Flag; featuring Alice Brady. (80)

The Heart of a Hero (6) A visualization of the life of Nathan Hale, the American patriot; featuring Robert Warwick. (80)

INDUSTRY AND ENGINEERING

GROUP 66

Telephone

How the Telephone Talks (1) Scientific explanation for the layman. (80)

GROUP 67 General Electricity

Chemical Effects of Electricity (1) Action of two electrodes in an electrolyte traced from crude beginnings by Volta, through modern battery manufacture and use, electrolysis, electroplating to metallurgy of copper (48)and aluminum.

Heat and Light from Electricity (1) Electricity in series and parallel circuits; Ohm's Law; manufacture and use of conductors, insulators, lamps, arc furnaces and heating equipment. (48, 77)

GROUP 68 Engineering Achievements

How Brooklyn Bridge Was Built (1) Scientific animated drawing explaining one of world's greatest engineering achievements. (80)

GROUP 69 Electrical Machinery

High Frequency (Coreless) Induction Furnaces (1) Actual operation of several high frequency induction furnaces including sectional views of furnace, action of "lines of force," and direction of stirring. (2)

GROUP 70 Automotive Machinery

The Automobile (1) Traces production and use of iron, rubber, glass (48)and gasoline in the automobile.

R. P. M. (1/4) Automobile motors; motor development; thrills of great (110)speedways that are working laboratories for motor development.

INDUSTRY AND ENGINEERING

GROUP 71 Miscellaneous Machinery

How Movies Move (1) Explanation of Geneva Star and Cam on Maltese Cross mechanism. (80)

Refrigeration (1) Ammonia compression system of refrigeration applied to artificial ice-making and household mechanical refrigeration.

Four-Stroke Cycle Gas Engine (1) Shows it in a single cylinder head type motor. (48)

Simple Machines (1) Lever and inclined plane are developed as fundamental to other machines. Principles of mechanical advantage, work, efficiency and conservation of energy are applied. (48)

GROUP 72

Electric Power in the Southern Appalachians (1) Divided into three units: Before Water Power Was Developed, Developing Water Power, After Water Power Was Developed. Shows progress in the South in industry and living conditions.

Steam Power (1) Early steam engines and explains improvements which made steamboat possible.

NATURAL PRODUCTS AND PROCESSES

GROUP 73 Fishing Industry

(A18) Brown Gold (1) Caviar fisheries of the Black Sea. New England Fisheries-Cod (1) Divided into following units: Equipment for Cod Fishing, Catching Cod Fish, Preparing Cod for Market, Annual Memorial Services. (48)

New England Fisheries-Mackerel (1) Divided into two units; Catching (48)

Mackerel, Preparing Mackerel for Market.

Catching Salmon in Oregon (1/2) How salmon are caught and how eggs are extracted and fertilized for hatcheries. (23)

Pacific Coast Salmon (1) Multitudes of plucky salmon swimming to spawning beds; natural and artificial spawning; seine and trap fishing; (48)packing and canning.

Salmon Fishing on Banks of Puget Sound (1) Commercial aspect of salmon fishing. (18)

Whaling in the South Pacific (1) Intimate study of exciting industry. (18)

GROUP 74 Lumbering and Forest Products

California Lumber Flume (1/4) A relic of the '49ers and still doing duty. (125)

Conquering Cypress (1) Logging in the cypress swamps of Florida. (18) Lumbering in the Pacific Northwest (1) Laying railroad; dragging logs to it by steel cables; sawing logs into lumber; drying, planing and subsequent sorting and shipping.

Man's Triumph over Mighty Forest (1) Life in a lumber camp and scenes of log floating time in great Northwest. (78)

Rosin for the World (1) How we obtain rosin. (18)

GROUP 75 Mining-Coal and Oil

Anthracite Coal (1) Divided into six units: The Miner Goes to Work, Timber Supports in the Mine, Blasting Coal, Removing Coal from the Mine, The Breaker, Cleaning and Grading Coal. Anthracite region located in Pennsylvania. (48)

Bituminous Coal (1) Methods used in mining of soft coal and the making of coke. (48)

Mexican Oil Fields (1) How oil is drilled for, struck, tanked, piped (23)and shipped.

Producing Crude Oil (1) Work preliminary to drilling; drilling operations; methods of transporting oil from fields to coast cities.

GROUP 76 Mining-Miscellaneous

Common Salt (1) Nature and action of salt; contrasts methods used in extracting, purifying, drying and bagging surface and rock salt deposits. (48)

Mining-Miscellaneous

The Mining and Smelting of Copper (1) Physical properties of metal; states in which it is found; methods by which it is mined, concentrated and smelted.

Lead (1) Way in which ore is mined and smelted; multiple uses of metal in industry; process of making white lead. (48)Tin (1) Opencast mining, sluicing and bucket dredging shown in world's richest tin mines (Malay States); processes of making tin products. (48)A Trip to Cripple Creek (1/4) Few moments among greatest gold and silver mines in world. (125)

GROUP 98

Embryology

Living Cell (1) The division and growth of single-celled organisms: yeast, amoeba, paramecium; many celled organisms; hydra and flatworm; tissue cells; cell division.

GROUP 99 Anatomy and Structural Physiology

The Blood (1) Illustrates the separation of plasma from blood cells; protein and salts from plasma—staining cells—counting red blood corpuscles—how white blood cells reach the body tissue.

Breathing (1) Importance of good lungs and action of diaphragm, breathing, lung structure and function.

(48)

Breath of Life (1) Blood corpuscles show how oxygen is carried to all (A18) cells of body.

Circulation (1) Human circulatory system traced.

(48)Circulatory Control (1) Pressure of blood in arteries-methods of meas-(48)uring pressure-structure and work of veins.

Digestion (1) Covers complete digestive tract—action of saliva upon food, swallowing, stomach structure, structure and action of both intes-(48)tines.

The Heart and How It Works (1) From the series "The Human Body." (77)

How We Hear (1) Exposition of way in which sound waves enter hu-(80)man ear and are translated into brain impressions. How You See (1) An explanation of the functions of various parts of

The Human Voice (1) Relations of tongue, larynx, vocal chords, etc., and their respective parts in word-forming. (80)

Penetrating the Stream of Life (1/4) Mysteries of blood revealed through (110)microscope. The Skin (1) Contrasts skins of various animals; structure and method of growth of human skin; explains sensation of touch; proper care of skin. (48, 77)

Eyes, Feet, Teeth GROUP 100

How Teeth Grow (1) Embryological development of a tooth; order of formation and eruption of temporary and permanent teeth. (48)Mouth Health (1) Brief synopsis of correct dental care at home and (118)at dental office.

GROUP 104 How Do You Get Your Exercise? (1) Drills, training and contests used various groups in keeping fit. (80)

Posture (1) Part played by muscles in determining good and bad posture—how to correct poor posture—importance of good posture.

Stretch and Keep Well (1/4) Series of exercises based upon the book, "Physical Exercises for Daily Use" by Dr. C. Ward Crampton. (110)

GROUP 105 Public Health

Sewage Disposal (1) Purification by Imhoff Tank and sprinkling filter -purification by sand filtration-disposal into ocean. (48)

GROUP 106 Disease and Its Treatment

Diphtheria (1) Preparation and use of antitoxin; methods of control (48)and of preventing the disease. Intestinal Peristalsis (1) Various types of intestinal movement in cat

(48)and rabbit.  $(\Lambda 18)$

Sleeping Death (1) African sleeping sickness. Tuberculosis and How It May Be Avoided (1) Tubercle bacilli shown growing in laboratory and in lung tissue of human body; daily routine at preventorium.

GROUP 109 Fire Prevention

Fire Prevention (1) Construction of an approved fire-resisting building -correct insulation; proper way to safeguard inflammable materials. (48) Fire Protection (1) Old and modern equipment and methods of fighting fires; school lesson in fire safety. (48) part of the total theatrical output, which means all films likely to appear at the better theatres throughout the country. The Estimates are not the "opinion of an individual," but are the composite judgment of a National THE Film Estimates are a unique theatrical film-review service for the intelligent public, appearing monthly in - The Educational Screen. Current theatrical films are covered each month, representing the major and better Committee, scattered throughout the United States.

From April, 1929, to June, 1930, inclusive, the Film Estimates covered nearly 500 theatrical films. The following 138 include only those judged as suitable, and more or less desirable, for children and young people. These Estimate, for the convenience of users of "1001 Films." (All films distinctly unsuitable for the younger members 188 films are listed below, in alphabetical order and with reference to the monthly issue which carried the full of the community, even those thoroughly worthwhile for a lults, have been omitted from this selection.)

Insist on this Safety Film

EASTMAN Safety Film, made on a cellulose acetate base, represents the type of motion picture film approved by the Underwriters' Laboratories for unenclosed projection.... They give it the same rating as that of an equal amount of common newsprint paper... a sure index of the protection which the film gives your audience and your building.

Insist on having all of your prints on this film, and look for the words "Eastman" "Kodak" "Safety" "Film" throughout the margin of each reel.
